Javaka Steptoe

is coming to QAE on January 26!

Javaka Steptoe

We are thrilled to partner with Antioch University's School of Education and four other Seattle public schools to bring Javaka Steptoe to Seattle for the Multicultural Children's Literature Celebration week.

Javaka's latest book Radiant Child: The Story of Young Artist Jean Michel-Basquiat has received many starred reviews, has landed on multiple year-end, best-of lists and is widely considered to be a strong contender for ALA awards.

Javaka will give two presentations at QAE—one for K-2nd & one for 3rd-5th (times to be announced). Signed books* can be purchased through the U Bookstore (order form on the back).

*20% of book sales will be used to purchase multicultural literature for several low income, high free & reduced lunch schools in Seattle that have no library budget.

On behalf of the staff & students of QAE, the Reading Culture Committee would like to express our gratitude to the PTSA for generously funding this incredible event!
