

SPANISH IMMERSION SUMMER CAMPS 2012

9am-2pm daily at Coe Elementary

June 25-29: A week in Colombia $350

Students will learn about Colombian artist Fernando Botero, and experiment with his style as they create their own "robust" family portraits. The language focus will be on vocabulary and expressions related to geography (Colombia and South America), family, colors, numbers, and personal interests. The classes will be infused with music as students work on their art projects in the morning. Campers will head outside after lunch for games that are typical in Latin America, and soccer!

July 9-13: A week in España $350

Students will read about Pablo Picasso's childhood in Spain, learn of his portrait styles, and experiment with some of his techniques as music from Spain plays in the background. The language learning focus will be on geography (Spain and Europe), parts of the body vocabulary, colors, personal interests, and vocabulary associated with drawing and painting. In the afternoon, they will play games typical in Spain and go out to the playground for soccer.

July 16-20: A Week in México $350

After a morning of soccer in Spanish, students enjoy art projects related to México. They will learn about the life of Frida Kahlo and make colorful pictures that express strong emotions. The language focus will be geography (México and North America), feelings, and personal interests. They will also create a piñata for their celebration of a week in Mexico.

July 23-27: A Week in Perú $350

"Todo es útil" says Peruvian artist Victor Delfín when discussing his sculptures. "Everything is useful". Students will experiment with the sculpture techniques of Delfín and create their own sculptures of things collected at home and in nature.

Andean music will be highlighted, and the language learning focus will be geography (Péru and South America), la naturaleza, shapes, colors, all vocabulary related to creating their Delfín inspired sculpture. Campers will head out to the playground for soccer in the afternoon and other games typical of Latin America.
